Create stories that fit your clients' needs and deliver them with flair...

Stories have a thousand and one uses in training and public speaking.

They help your groups:

- Learn faster
- Solve problems
- Connect with your message.

Through "Stories that Teach" you will learn powerful ways to build success stories, such as:

- Triggering learning states with stories
- Designing isomorphic teaching metaphors
- Creating an engaging plot

- Developing compelling characters
- Performing your story with gusto
- Using hypnotic language to mesmerise your listeners.

"What our clients say"

"Eleanor is always listening to people's stories, as well as telling her own. By sharing her real life stories in her training, she helps people make a connection to new ideas. A safe space is created, so you feel you can tell your story and be heard too."

Aggie Lim, Director, Professional Development University of Western Sydney

"Eleanor from Think Learn Succeed is funny, outgoing, organised and always well-prepared. In her presentations, she uses humour and stories extremely well."

Nick Hunt, Bosch Insitute

What can storytelling do for you?

Imagine being able to breathe life into dry subject matter, engage resistant learners and have people remember your sessions years after they leave.

That's what storytelling can help you to do.

In this course you will discover how to create change focused metaphors, build engaging characters and bring your stories to life on stage using your voice and body language.

The course is highly interactive, using enjoyable and practical exercises. This hands-on approach makes applying what you learn easy - long after the workshop is over.

Workshop topics include:

- How stories promote learning
- Designing isomorphic metaphors
- Creating your plot
- Designing your characters
- Staging your story
- Using mesmerising story talk.
