

Finding Our Focus

1 Day

“When there is a genuine vision people excel and learn, not because they are told to, but because they want to” (Peter Senge). Consider the significance of this statement for your own team, as well as the teams you work with. Rethink the way your team defines, creates and delivers its services. Build a compelling team story which will draw internal clients to your services. Then work out how to tell that story on an ongoing basis.

What you'll achieve during this session

You'll come out of this session with an action plan for driving the team forward next year. Develop a clear strategy for:

- Linking your team's efforts to a core vision
- Explaining why your services matter to internal clients
- Turning your services into tangible 'products'
- Using a 'team story' to promote those products

Topics you'll cover

- What's our team vision?
- What's our purpose?
- What should we offer the business?
- What's our team story?
- How do we tell our story?

The delivery of this session changes to meet the needs of your team. It is interactive, dynamic and focussed on helping everyone see ways to build an inspiring future.

“Smart training for clever people”

What others have said about the program...

“The facilitator managed to pull the whole team together and make it now impossible for follow through not to happen”

“It was great to identify and construct the 'whys' and purpose of doing our jobs”

“Nice gentle approach. Eleanor used metaphors, games, video etc. to help draw out team issues and solutions”
